

Climate Conversations: Uniting Perspective for Action with Noah Haggerty!

A Center for Climate Change Education
Community of Practice Event

LA Times climate reporter, Noah Haggerty, will share how climate change narratives shape public perception and the media's role in this dialogue. He'll explore strategies to overcome political polarization and promote constructive communication, engaging diverse backgrounds in collective action. Attendees will gain insights on cross-sector collaboration to tackle climate issues effectively. Don't miss the chance to participate in a Q&A session!

Thursday, March 20 2025
On ZOOM 2:30- 3:45

RSVP:

VRC Faculty
Registration Link